The Reach App is a mass texting/email app I use to send all my students messages regarding pace, announcements, needing to submit an assignment, etc. The teacher price for the app is $30/yr. I can reach all my students in under 10 minutes if I need to. So far, I've used it to communicate reminders about live lessons & meetings, motivation to students behind pace or who haven't submitted an assignment in a week and acknowledging students who are ahead of pace.

Phrase Express is a text expander that will allow me to quickly provide feedback on assignments without having to create or scroll through a ton of snippets. It can be used to provide specific feedback and reminders on assignments…having the text expander will allow me to mix it up and not provide feedback that's too similar on assignments. The goal there is to get students to read and pay attention to the feedback since it will be more meaningful and specific. Cost: $49.95
